FEDERAL FINANCES WILL BE BACK ON "PAY AS WE GO" BASIS JUNE FIRST

Pres. Harding Makes Announcement of Vital Interest to All Citizens of United States.

ECONOMY DOES IT

Washington, Jan. 29.—Representatives of the government's "business organization," assembled for consideration of budget problems, were told today in a message from President Harding that for the first time since the fiscal year 1916 the nation's income and outgo probably would balance at the end of the current fiscal year on June 30.

The President's message, delivered by Vice President Coolidge, announced that instead of a deficit of $688,000,000, estimated at the beginning of the fiscal year, the economy drive had 10 days ago forced a reduction to $92,000,000.

Mr. Harding urged a continuation of the efforts at curtailing expenditures and eliminating waste, declaring that by such continued attention would the balanced budget be realized on June 30. Supplementing the President's plan, Brig. Gen. Lord, director of the budget, called on all government workers to subordinate local, departmental or sectional requirements to the greater good of the whole people, emphasizing the officials that "U. S." means the United States and not "Up."

Gen. Lord reported that the final estimate of expenditures for the current fiscal year, surveyed January 29, was $2,724,554,132, while the forecast revenue for the same day was $2,432,904,888. This leaves, he pointed out, a deficit of slightly more than $292,000,000, and he expressed the belief that with five months of the fiscal year ahead in which to cut away less than one-fifth of the amount eliminated in the excess expenditures in the first seven months of the 12-month period, the deficit could be eliminated. He declared, however, in this connection, that the tireless, unremitting efforts of the President to accomplish the result must have the support of every public servant.

Results Beginning to Show

Gen. Lord's speech carried evidence in support of statements in the President's message that results were only now becoming apparent. He reviewed the work of the various agencies subordinate to the Budget Bureau, showing how thousands of dollars were cut from estimates here and there, and millions in some instances were dropped off the original figures by those intent on making the nation pay as it goes.

The administration's economy program alone has not been entirely responsible for the showing, which now seems to warrant definite statements of a balanced budget this year, the General said. He pointed to increasing collections of revenue under the drive for back taxes by Commissioner Blair of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and greater customs receipts from duties levied in the new tariff act. More highly specialized handling of all the government's revenue sources, he added, have also brought in funds.

Charles Makin and A. H. Johnson of Cherry Tree spent Monday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson, Jr., left for Commodore, Pa., where they will reside. Mr. Wilson being engaged in the mining business. Mrs. Wilson was formerly Miss Julia Bell Brant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brantner of Clearfield.

His wife recently presented him with a baby. On the same date his daughter, Mrs. Probuszaro, also became a mother and was not to be outdone there was a new arrival in the home of his son, John Weido. PITTSBURG COAL PRODUCERS SIGN NEW YORK SCALE

The fuel supply for the Pittsburgh district and a great part of Western Pennsylvania was made secure until April 1, 1924, yesterday at 4 o'clock, when representatives of the Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association and the United Mine Workers of America, at a conference in the offices of the producers' association in the Farmers Bank Building, signed an agreement for wages and working conditions at the mines for the year beginning April 1, 1923.

The basis of the settlement is a mutual contract to accept and hold binding, for one year, the wage scale, its terms and conditions now in force in District No. 5, including the Pittsburgh bituminous coal fields.

The agreement excepted from the contract, the New York resolution calling for an interstate joint conference prior to April 1, 1923. This exception leaves the Pittsburgh district operators and mine union to act on an independent basis, and ready to make their own arrangements for the next joint wage scale meeting.

The agreement signed yesterday reads:

This joint conference of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, and Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association hereby reaffirms the wage scale now existing between District No. 5 and the above association, whose interests are represented in this conference, and hereby extends the same for a period of one year from April 1, 1923, to March 31, 1924, in all its terms, provisions and conditions, excepting Section 15 of New York agreement of April, 1920, and the resolution calling for interstate joint conferences prior to April 1, 1922.

Other Meetings Scheduled.

The Pittsburgh Coal Company representatives and the mine union officials are scheduled to meet for a like wage adjustment Wednesday, and the Freeport Thick Vein Coal Operators' Association and the same officials today.

LITTLE CHILD IS KILLED WHEN BIG WRINGER FALLS

Punxsutawney Woman Returns from Neighbors to Find Little Tot With Life Extinct.

ONLY 2 YEARS OLD

Punxsutawney, Pa., Jan. 29.—Coming from the home of a neighbor where she had gone to get a bucket of water to find her little daughter lying dead on the back porch with a heavy wringer across her body was the terrible experience of Mrs. Russell Himes, of Fourth avenue, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Himes was working about the house as usual Saturday and about 3 o'clock started for a neighbor's home to get water. Her little daughter, Florence Maxine, aged 2 years and six months, had been helping her. The baby was using a little broom to sweep, when the mother left. She finished this baby task then took a quilt from her doll cradle to the back porch and standing on the edge shook it, in imitation of her mother. Turning to go into the house she saw the wringer attached to a stand on the back porch, and tried to put the quilt through the machine to complete her work. In her efforts she upset the stand and it fell across her little neck breaking it and causing instant death.

The mother came to the back porch all unconscious of what had happened and saw the little form lying under the heavy wringer. She pulled the machine away and clasping the little form to her bosom rushed to the home of her sister, falling unconscious at the door. A physician was instantly called, but all he could do was pronounce life extinct.

The baby was the only child an had endeared itself to the entire neighborhood. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their many friends in Punxsutawney.

Funeral services will be held in the First English Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock and interment made in the Marchand cemetery. Rev. C. O. Frank will officiate.

Recently he sent one of his men to a home in Coalport to collect six barrels of wine that had been left there under seal from a former raid. When the men went to collect the booty they found 20 more barrels of the same stuff in the cellar. All of it was confiscated, but he is awaiting word as to the disposal of the stuff.

Miss Claire J. Lape, recently transferred from Wilkesbarre to the Punxsutawney office, is the new secretary. The books and records of the office are being placed in shape and room a real campaign against the bootleggers will be in effect.

PHILIPSBURG MAN OF PROMINENCE DIED EARLY TODAY

R. H. Zerby, vice president of the Lauderbach-Zerby Company and one of Philipsburg's best known and most highly respected citizens, died at his home there at an early hour this morning after a brief illness. The present Lauderbach-Zerby Company succeeded Lauderbach-Barber in 1916 and at this time the deceased was made vice president and general manager, which positions he occupied at the time of his death.

OLD TIME LUMBERMAN IN TOWN

E. F. Layberger, of Greenville, Tennessee, an old time Clearfield lumberman who, after our forests had fallen before the axe of the woodsman, betook himself and his Pennsylvania woods knowledge into the southern forests, is a guest of his nephew, Thomas J. Lowell at present. Mr. Layberger says the immense forests of the southern states are falling before the inroads of the lumberman even much faster than did the timber of Pennsylvania, thanks to the improvements and advancement in the science of lumbering.

Mr. Longwell of Indiana spent the week end with friends in Clearfield.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE CERTAIN TO BE A PART OF THE PINCHOT "DRY" LAW

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—Governor Pinchot today defined the much mooted "search and seizure" clause in the administration's dry bill, now under preparation.

"I am going to ask the Legislature to consider and pass an enforcement bill that will contain a reasonable search and seizure clause," declared the Governor.

Pinchot would not say whether or not this meant the right to search without a warrant. He answered all question on this score with the reply that the clause "would be constitutional."

"I am a firm believer in the good old American doctrine that a man's house is his castle and should be protected against unwarranted search. The constitution both of the United States and the State of Pennsylvania guarantee the right. On the other hand the residents of any community are entitled to protection against any attempt that may be made to take any one of their number who turns his house into a place for breaking the law. For this reason I am going to ask the Legislature to consider and pass an enforcement bill that will contain a reasonable search and seizure clause."

Mayor Kittleberger Has Prolific Session Of Police Court Last Eve.

Mayor Kittleberger held a brief session of police court last evening and plastered a fine of $12 on Ralph Legges, the East End negro, arrested by the police for being drunk and disorderly down in East End Saturday night.

Will Jones, the "red coon" from Alabama, who amused himself by shooting up Tysno's restaurant, was fined $24 by the Mayor, after which Chief of Police McMullen made information against Jones for carrying concealed deadly weapons and transporting moonshine liquor and "Squire" Choppin sent him to jail in default of bail.

WILL ENFORCE DOG LAWS RIGIDLY IN EVERY COUNTY

Borough, city and county officials throughout Pennsylvania are preparing to inaugurate a campaign intended to be even farther reaching in its effect than that of last spring, to compel dog owners to obey the laws placed on the statute books for the control of the animals.

The campaign will be carried on under the lead of the state department of agriculture and will be vigorously prosecuted. General ignorance of the provisions of the law seems to exist and the great majority of dog owners appear to shirk the responsibilities attendant upon the keeping of the animals. The law in that regard is exact and must be carried out to the letter.

On the fifteenth day of January of each year all dog owners are required to secure a new license for dogs kept, harbored, or allowed to remain on their premises over six months old. A substantial collar furnished by the owner; and with the tag attached, must at all times be kept on the dog for which the license is issued. It is unlawful for any person except the owner or authorized agent to remove any license tag from a dog collar, or to remove any collar with license tag attached.

Any justice of the peace, alderman, magistrate or notary public, may take application for dog license, for which service the applicant shall pay fifteen cents in addition to the license fees prescribed, and the compensation of the county treasurer. The sum shall be retained by the official as his fees for taking such application, and remitting payment therefore to the county treasurer. No license shall be issued at any place other than the county treasury of the county in which the dog is kept.

Dogs are not permitted to run at large, whether they are licensed or not. All dogs must be chained, or securely penned up at night, and are not allowed to stray from the premises of the owner, except when taken out in control of their owner, or in charge of a keeper. Prosecutions will follow in every case where dogs are permitted to run at large on the public highway or streets in borough, town or city.

Pinchot's war on bootleggers was launched here today with the arrest of Harry Salzer, an official of the Oil City Brewing Company, by State Police.

State troopers also seized a truck load of sixteen bags of beer which was to have been shipped to clubs in this district.

Salzer was held for hearing under $1,000 bail.

TRAVERSE JURORS CALLED FOR NEXT WEEK ARE EXCUSED

Grand Jury, However, Will Sit According To The Call Issued; Jail Conditions To Be Investigated.

NO CASES FOR NEXT WEEK

The first week of February term of civil court opened Monday with Judge Bell presiding. The trial list for the week was called at the opening session and a number of cases were set as settled and the first case to go to trial was taken up this morning.

The February Grand Jury, which will investigate jail conditions, will meet Monday, February 7th, and criminal court will open Monday, February 21st.

In going over the list of cases scheduled for trial next week it was found that every case listed had been settled but one and Judge Bell thereupon decided that it would be a needless expense to bring the jury here for that week and cancelled next week's court. All jurors summoned to report in Clearfield on Monday, September 7th, will therefore not have to report. Of course those summoned as Grand Jurors are not in this list and the Grand Jury will sit as provided for.

The Walker Coal Company, of Erie, by its attorneys Bouton, Forsyth & Bell, entered suit in Prothonotary Hall's office Monday against The Maurer Coal Mining Company of Patton, Pa., in an effort to recover $1420 alleged to be due for coal sold the Patton concern.

Suit was also entered by Miller & Hartwick, representing Schenck & Caldwell of Philadelphia, against the Pine Ridge Supply Company, a Clearfield County concern, for the purpose of recovering $316.89 said to be due for merchandise supplied by the Philadelphia concern.

THIRD TEST WELL DOWN 1600 FEET WITH 1400 TO GO

Driller Helsel, in charge of the drilling of the third test well on the mountains north of town, was in town yesterday and said this well, which is located on lands of the Grampian Hunting Club, near the old Gum Swamp camp, is down 1600 feet or about half the distance they contemplated going. The oil and gas sands are below 1600 feet so of course they are unable to tell as yet whether this hole shall prove a "duster" like the other two already drilled in that section.

Mr. Helsel pointed to the recent gas strike in Clinton county as proof that oil and gas will be found east of the State Geologist's imaginary line which crosses Clearfield county near DuBois.

Miss Blanche Minnick said B. F. Minnick wrote to friends here from the Hotel El Tovar, Grand Canyon, Arizona, en route to Los Angeles, Cal.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Some of the finest and cleanest hemlock lumber that has ever been brought to Curwensville, even in the slumy days of lumbering, is being brought in from the Karstetter mill out on the ridges. Principally two-inch planks are being cut, hauled and added on the cars. The output is taken from that virgin tract of hemlock, near the head of Montgomery Creek, and about the only virgin timber left within the confines of Clearfield county.

Talk about snow. We have it and more than we really need or can take care of reasonably. The fall of that heavy material which delights the heart of the sleighing parties, impeded the progress of church and Sunday school attendants, last Sunday not only checked pedestrian traffic in town, but also filled up the country roads sufficiently to keep the rural residents at home until the exits from their homes to the highways could be shoveled out to a depth of finding road bed low enough to allow a sled or sleigh to glide through. Another still more is contemplated to locate that ground hog fiend who so valuably prophesied an open winter.

Ord L. Norris, a one-time get-up-and-get Pipe townshipp agriculturist, who a few years ago sold his land and truck and became a resident at the county seat, was in Curwensville on Saturday night. He came up ostensibly to attend a meeting of the Old Fellows Lodge and also a session of the members of the Gates Punting Club, each of which he is an active and enthusiastic attendee.

Miss Grace Smiley, teaching a school at Peale, arrived in Curwensville on Saturday and was a guest of her cousin Mrs. Geo. C. Fleming, until Monday.

For the reason of car shortage nearly all of the mines herabouts were idle the greater part of last week. A car embargo on the railroads centering at this point is given out as one reason for this, while another and more plausible excuse is that there is an over production of that fuel on the market, the decline in market value causing those who bought at a higher price to hold on to what they have, anticipating an early advance. The price of wagon fuel, tons of which was loaded at this place, has also taken a slump in price, few brokers buying in advance, as they did a few weeks ago. To make a reasonable profit the men who bought from the small country tanks and loaded on cars, could not do so for a less sum than from $2.75 to $3.00 per ton. The price for wagon fuel is some less than that figure today. Hence those who have been engaged in that line of trade do not know whether they load cars now or not, but are watching the broker market closely for a sign of an increase in the price per tonnage.

Frank Price, eldest son of Amos Price, who died at the Price home a few days ago from an attack of typhoid fever, was buried Sunday afternoon in the Bloomington cemetery, Rev. J. C. Collins officiating, spiritually.

Curwensville has always enjoyed the reputation of being one of the few towns in this county enjoying small fire losses during its many years of prosperity. According to a published statement the total loss by fire during the year 1922 amounted to only $3,825.00. The firemen attended 9 alarms where there was no property loss at all; 8 calls where the losses ranged from $25 to $2,000; and answered four still alarms. We consider that a pretty fair fire record for a town of three thousand population, or in other words, most of the leading insurance companies do not hesitate a moment in granting risks on property in this town, as their losses always are much lower every year than in other towns the same size or dimension.

A deputy collector will be in Curwensville and at the Central Hotel on February 12, 13 and 14th, for the purpose of giving instructions in the manner of compiling and filling out of blanks for income tax. His services will be at the command of all those who do not thoroughly understand the system for attending to this lawful and important duty. It will not be at all necessary for the Curwensville letter correspondent to take up any of this deputy's valuable time while on duty in this vicinity.

Mrs. Jeff LaBorde and daughter went to Clearfield and spent Sabbath with relatives.

Master Howard Deter, a grandson of Geo. R. Fleming, met with an accident last Saturday while coasting on the hill at the foot of Bloomington avenue which caused him a great deal of pain and will keep him careful of himself for some days. He was thrown from a sled striking a piece of railing which walloped him over the back and kidneys.

A three-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wise, died at their home in Pike township, on Sunday. The funeral was held this afternoon. Funeral Director Doverspike having charge. Interment of the body was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mistress Esther Bloom, a grandchild of Mr. S. C. Norris, is reported as being seriously ill at the home of her parents in Pike township, not far from the borough line.

Parents and Teachers meeting was held in one of the rooms of the High School building last evening. It was a sort of union gathering as the members of the Board of Health, School Board, town physicians and parents, who are directly interested in the health of their children who are attending the public schools, had been invited and earnestly requested to be present. The important question to be discussed was "Health and Sanitation." It was distinctly and clearly demonstrated to all that many rooms in the three buildings were not sanitary and that they were overcrowded. In several rooms where some seventy youngsters are herded, and half dozen nationalities represented, the atmosphere at times is strong enough to "stink a tar can off a gut wagon," and it is one of the great unsolved mysteries just how teacher and pupils can stand it day after day without becoming ill. There will have to be something done very soon by which better sanitary conditions in the school can be maintained. As we stated and clearly described once before, that there are more pupils attending our public schools than can be properly taken care of in the manner that they should be. Every room in the three buildings has more pupils than the law specifically permits. There is a time coming, and it is not a year distant either, when the State educational authorities will take hold of this matter and straighten it out. Are we in a position to meet the expense that will incur if this happens? There ought to be pride in plenty in this town to take this sanitary problem up and adjust it without any outside assistance.

Frank Gilliland, of Clearfield, was in Curwensville yesterday visiting his patrons and demonstrating his line of goods.

Here is a problem that the writer was given to solve yesterday by one of the heaviest taxpayers in this end of the county: If a moonshiner can procure a gift of $150 to leave the county, how much more would be given to a sunshiner to vamoosie? We pass the buck up to some one who has a bigger head than we for riddles.

The rent question in Curwensville has indeed become a hard nut to crack. In interviewing more than a dozen persons yesterday who rent business rooms and dwelling houses, it was made plain to us that the price had been jumped to double for the year 1923 as to what had been paid for the same room space during 1922. As no repairs or conveniences to these places had been added, the people who occupied them could not figure out just why this was done.

Heat and water rates are no higher, neither are taxes, light, etc., advanced over the rates of last year, hence it is hard to realize how come it that rent rates advanced so tremendously. What this town is in most need of is about half a hundred new houses or flats. The question of high rents is simply because there are more people to be housed than there are places to accommodate them. It's a simple problem in deuteronomy; the more houses the less rental.

At a recent meeting of the Methodist people the following Sunday school officials were elected for the ensuing year: Superintendent, John A. Dale (re-elected); assistant superintendent, Newt Shirey; Secretary Sam P. Bressler; Treasurer, W. L. Dale; treasurer missionary fund, Mrs. Obe Bloom. W. C. Weber was chosen as superintendent of adult department; Rev. Collins, the senior dept.; Mrs. W. L. Dale, intermediate dept.; Mrs. N. J. Kittleberger, junior dept.; Mrs. Obe Bloom, primary dept. The average attendance at each session of the school was three hundred and sixteen.

Jake Kantar, representing Kantar & Sons went to Bradford yesterday to look over conditions and make ready for the stocking up of a new store that his firm is about to install in the city of oil.

Several gallons of hard cider seemed to have enough pep in it to get some half dozen boys, hardly out of their teens, into a mess of trouble Saturday night. Several of the lads had the "grape vine twist waltz" down to perfection, to say nothing of the extraordinary fine and fluent line of vulgar expressions which was broadcasted promiscuously into the air.

Freedom from constipation, mild or chronic, can be surely looked for if you will eat Kellogg's Bran every day! Two tablespoonsful are sufficient for severe cases with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food awaiting a chance to bring back your health. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Being cooked and krumbled, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nutlike flavor. It should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and hard to eat. Kellogg's Bran adds greatly to the pleasure of eating other hot or cold cereals. A popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with hot cereals. In preparation, add two tablespoonsful of Bran for each person, mixing it with the cereal to be cooked.

Kellogg's Bran is especially delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes appear on each package.

Realize what Kellogg's Bran is doing for constipation sufferers all over the nation, then just think what it can do for you and yours. The horrors to come should guide you to eat bran regularly, to serve it in some form each day.

You can drive constipation out of your family with Kellogg's Bran—and remove the cause of 90% of human illness! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

For the first time since 1916 this government expects to be back on a "pay as you go" basis by June first.

This is the welcome statement coming from President Harding within three years of his taking the reins of the federal government on an economy program.

President Harding went into the presidency when the country faced a situation just about the same as Governor Pinchot faces in Pennsylvania.

No President has faced so many demands on the public treasury and no President has ever carried out his program so faithfully.

There is no single act of the President which can be said to be "playing to the galleries." He has "cut and slashed" appropriations even when public sentiment seemed to be unfavorable to his acts.

But he has carried out his promises and within a few short months he will have the financial affairs of this government on the same basis that Mr. Pinchot hopes to put the financial affairs of this state within the next four years.

President Harding has had opportunities without number to play to the galleries, to appease this and that interest, and make friends in many circles.

Rather he chose to take those steps which would bring the most good to the greatest number.

It appears that for the first time in many years the business of this region will not be tied up by reason of the uncertainty that always is present about the first of April when coal wage contracts expire.

It is a temporary advantage and the most should be made of it. The wise business man is going to "keep on going."

There is nothing to halt good business during the whole of 1923. The car supply this winter has prevented the miner from making a decent living, but even this cloud has its silver lining. The car supply will surely get better soon and the scarcity of the last few months should create a coal demand lasting far into the summer months.

The man who raises poultry is always interested in the subject from every angle and indeed, to be a successful poultryman, whether just a little flock for table eggs and an occasional chicken dinner, or on a large scale, demands eternal care and study. Realizing this The Progress will publish a series of articles on poultry which will be found interesting and profitable. They will appear almost daily. Read them carefully and profit thereby.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation—you'll find quick, sure and pleasant relief from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night and keep right. Try them. Look to

FRESHMAN STOCK DUES

COMPLETION OF SENIORS

The first annual stock dues for the Freshman class of the Pennsylvania State College was held in the college livestock building, with 135 members of the first year class coming to judge the honors. The winners in the several classes were: G. D. Taylor, Reading, for highest on all classes; R. P. Armstrong, Clearfield, and J. D. Lybain, Washington, tied on horses; S. M. Woodhead, Parkville, cattle; C. P. Wachsmuth, Butler, Sheep; R. J. Salmon, Centerville, swine. These men were awarded highly-prized gold medals, appropriately engraved for each class of stock, and furnished by breeders and organizations interested in the advancement of livestock work. The medal for general excellence in judging was given by the National Stockman and Farmer, Pittsburgh; the horse medal, by J. N. Convingham, Clarksdale, breeder, Wilber Barre, swine, by the Northumberland County Duroc Breeders' Association, Sunbury; cattle, by Alec Warner, Shorthorn breeder, Titusville; sheep by A. R. Hamilton, Hampshire breeder, Johnstown. A similar contest will soon be held for new students in the two year agricultural course.

CLEARFIELD VS. PHILIPSBURG

The game with Philipsburg Saturday night was close, and provided a few thrills, due to the fact that the teams were evenly matched this time. Philipsburg has improved considerably since the second team beat her on her own floor, and the home team was decidedly off color throughout the slow contest. The men bunched a great deal, and despite the fact that neither team guarded well, there was little shooting done. Clearfield won the second term in the first half, and her first lead in the second half, but the playing was about the same calibre throughout the first half ended 12-10 in favor of the visitors, and the score at the final bell showed 20-28 in favor of the local five. A good crowd was present.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

We offer replacement in quick time at reasonable prices! Remember us the next time you break your glasses and need immediate service.

Pres. Harding Makes Announcement of Vital Interest to All Citizens of United States.

ECONOMY DOES IT

Washington, Jan. 29.—Representatives of the government's "business organization," assembled for consideration of budget problems, were told today in a message from President Harding that for the first time since the fiscal year 1916 the nation's income and outgo probably would balance at the end of the current fiscal year on June 30.

The President's message, delivered by Vice President Coolidge, announced that instead of a deficit of $688,000,000, estimated at the beginning of the fiscal year, the economy drive had 10 days ago forced a reduction to $92,000,000.

Mr. Harding urged a continuation of the efforts at curtailing expenditures and eliminating waste, declaring that by such continued attention would the balanced budget be realized on June 30. Supplementing the President's plan, Brig. Gen. Lord, director of the budget, called on all government workers to subordinate local, departmental or sectional requirements to the greater good of the whole people, emphasizing the officials that "U. S." means the United States and not "Up."

Gen. Lord reported that the final estimate of expenditures for the current fiscal year, surveyed January 29, was $2,724,554,132, while the forecast revenue for the same day was $2,432,904,888. This leaves, he pointed out, a deficit of slightly more than $292,000,000, and he expressed the belief that with five months of the fiscal year ahead in which to cut away less than one-fifth of the amount eliminated in the excess expenditures in the first seven months of the 12-month period, the deficit could be eliminated. He declared, however, in this connection, that the tireless, unremitting efforts of the President to accomplish the result must have the support of every public servant.

Results Beginning to Show

Gen. Lord's speech carried evidence in support of statements in the President's message that results were only now becoming apparent. He reviewed the work of the various agencies subordinate to the Budget Bureau, showing how thousands of dollars were cut from estimates here and there, and millions in some instances were dropped off the original figures by those intent on making the nation pay as it goes.

The administration's economy program alone has not been entirely responsible for the showing, which now seems to warrant definite statements of a balanced budget this year, the General said. He pointed to increasing collections of revenue under the drive for back taxes by Commissioner Blair of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and greater customs receipts from duties levied in the new tariff act. More highly specialized handling of all the government's revenue sources, he added, have also brought in funds.

PITTSBURG COAL PRODUCERS SIGN NEW YORK SCALE

The fuel supply for the Pittsburgh district and a great part of Western Pennsylvania was made secure until April 1, 1924, yesterday at 4 o'clock, when representatives of the Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association and the United Mine Workers of America, at a conference in the offices of the producers' association in the Farmers Bank Building, signed an agreement for wages and working conditions at the mines for the year beginning April 1, 1923.

The basis of the settlement is a mutual contract to accept and hold binding, for one year, the wage scale, its terms and conditions now in force in District No. 5, including the Pittsburgh bituminous coal fields.

The agreement excepted from the contract, the New York resolution calling for an interstate joint conference prior to April 1, 1923. This exception leaves the Pittsburgh district operators and mine union to act on an independent basis, and ready to make their own arrangements for the next joint wage scale meeting.

The agreement signed yesterday reads:

This joint conference of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, and Pittsburgh Coal Producers' Association hereby reaffirms the wage scale now existing between District No. 5 and the above association, whose interests are represented in this conference, and hereby extends the same for a period of one year from April 1, 1923, to March 31, 1924, in all its terms, provisions and conditions, excepting Section 15 of New York agreement of April, 1920, and the resolution calling for interstate joint conferences prior to April 1, 1922.

Other Meetings Scheduled.

LITTLE CHILD IS KILLED WHEN BIG WRINGER FALLS

Punxsutawney Woman Returns from Neighbors to Find Little Tot
With Life Extinct.

ONLY 2 YEARS OLD

Punxsutawney, Pa., Jan. 29.—Coming from the home of a neighbor where she had gone to get a bucket of water to find her little daughter lying dead on the back porch with a heavy wringer across her body was the terrible experience of Mrs. Russell Himes, of Fourth avenue, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Himes was working about the house as usual Saturday and about 3 o'clock started for a neighbor's home to get water. Her little daughter Florence Maxine, aged 2 years and six months, had been helping her. The baby was using a little broom to sweep when the mother left. She finished this baby task then took a quilt from her doll cradle to the back porch and standing on the edge shook it, in imitation of her mother. Turning to go into the house she saw the wringer attached to a stand on the back porch, and tried to put the quilt through the machine to complete her work. In her efforts she upset the stand and it fell across her little neck breaking it and causing instant death.

The mother came to the back porch all unconscious of what had happened and saw the little form lying under the heavy wringer. She pulled the machine away and clasping the little form to her bosom rushed to the home of her sister, falling unconscious at the door. A physician was instantly called, but all he could do was pronounce life extinct.

The baby was the only child an had endeared itself to the entire neighborhood. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their many friends in Punxsutawney.

Funeral services will be held in the First English Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock and interment made in the Marchand cemetery. Rev. C. O. Frank will officiate.

When the men went to collect the booty they found 20 more barrels of the same stuff in the cellar. All of it was confiscated, but he is awaiting word as to the disposal of the stuff.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE CERTAIN TO BE A PART OF THE PINCHOT "DRY" LAW

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—Governor Pinchot today defined the much mooted "search and seizure" clause in the administration's dry bill, now under preparation.

"I am going to ask the Legislature to consider and pass an enforcement bill that will contain a reasonable search and seizure clause," declared the Governor.

Pinchot would not say whether or not this meant the right to search without a warrant. He answered all question on this score with the reply that the clause "would be constitutional."

"I am a firm believer in the good old American doctrine that a man's house is his castle and should be protected against unwarranted search. The constitution both of the United States and the State of Pennsylvania guarantee the right. On the other hand the residents of any community are entitled to protection against any attempt that may be made to take any one of their number who turns his house into a place for breaking the law. For this reason I am going to ask the Legislature to consider and pass an enforcement bill that will contain a reasonable search and seizure clause."

Oil City, Pa., Jan. 30.—Governor Pinchot's war on bootleggers was launched here today with the arrest of Harry Salzer, an official of the Oil City Brewing Company, by State Police.

State troopers also seized a truck load of sixteen bags of beer which was to have been shipped to clubs in this district. Salzer was held for hearing under $1,000 bail.

WILL ENFORCE DOG LAWS RIGIDLY IN EVERY COUNTY

Borough, city and county officials throughout Pennsylvania are preparing to inaugurate a campaign intended to be even farther reaching in its effect than that of last spring, to compel dog owners to obey the laws placed on the statute books for the control of the animals.

The campaign will be carried on under the lead of the state department of agriculture and will be vigorously prosecuted. General ignorance of the provisions of the law seems to exist and the great majority of dog owners appear to shirk the responsibilities attendant upon the keeping of the animals. The law in that regard is exact and must be carried out to the letter.

On the fifteenth day of January of each year all dog owners are required to secure a new license for dogs kept, harbored, or allowed to remain on their premises over six months old. A substantial collar furnished by the owner; and with the tag attached, must at all times be kept on the dog for which the license is issued. It is unlawful for any person except the owner or authorized agent to remove any license tag from a dog collar, or to remove any collar with license tag attached.

Any justice of the peace, alderman, magistrate or notary public, may take application for dog license, for which service the applicant shall pay fifteen cents in addition to the license fees prescribed, and the compensation of the county treasurer. The sum shall be retained by the official as his fees for taking such application, and remitting payment therefore to the county treasurer. No license shall be issued at any place other than the county treasury of the county in which the dog is kept.

Dogs are not permitted to run at large, whether they are licensed or not. All dogs must be chained, or securely penned up at night, and are not allowed to stray from the premises of the owner, except when taken out in control of their owner, or in charge of a keeper. Prosecutions will follow in every case where dogs are permitted to run at large on the public highway or streets in borough, town or city.

TRAVERSE JURORS CALLED FOR NEXT WEEK ARE EXCUSED

Grand Jury, However, Will Sit According To The Call Issued; Jail Conditions To Be Investigated.

NO CASES FOR NEXT WEEK

The first week of February term of civil court opened Monday with Judge Bell presiding. The trial list for the week was called at the opening session and a number of cases were set as settled and the first case to go to trial was taken up this morning.

The February Grand Jury, which will investigate jail conditions, will meet Monday, February 7th, and criminal court will open Monday, February 21st.

In going over the list of cases scheduled for trial next week it was found that every case listed had been settled but one and Judge Bell thereupon decided that it would be a needless expense to bring the jury here for that week and, cancelled next week's court. All jurors summoned to report in Clearfield on Monday, September 7th, will therefore not have to report. Of course those summoned as Grand Jurors are not in this list and the Grand Jury will sit as provided for.

The Walker Coal Company, of Erie, by its attorneys Bouton, Forsyth & Bell, entered suit in Prothonotary Hall's office Monday against The Maurer Coal Mining Company of Patton, Pa., in an effort to recover $1420 alleged to be due for coal sold the Patton concern.

Suit was also entered by Miller & Hartwick, representing Schenck & Caldwell of Philadelphia, against the Pine Ridge Supply Company, a Clearfield County concern, for the purpose of recovering $316.89 said to be due for merchandise supplied by the Philadelphia concern.

THIRD TEST WELL DOWN 1600 FEET WITH 1400 TO GO

Driller Helsel, in charge of the drilling of the third test well on the mountains north of town, was in town yesterday and said this well, which is located on lands of the Grampian Hunting Club, near the old Gum Swamp camp, is down 1600 feet or about half the distance they contemplated going. The oil and gas sands are below 1600 feet so of course they are unable to tell as yet whether this hole shall prove a "duster" like the other two already drilled in that section.

Mr. Helsel pointed to the recent gas strike in Clinton county as proof that oil and gas will be found east of the State Geologist's imaginary line which crosses Clearfield county near DuBois.

Miss Blanche Minnick said B. F. Minnick wrote to friends here from the Hotel El Tovar, Grand Canyon, Arizona, en route to Los Angeles, Cal.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Some of the finest and cleanest hemlock lumber that has ever been brought to Curwensville, even in the slmy days of lumbering, is being brought in from the Karstetter mill out on the ridges. Principally two-inch planks are being cut, hauled and added on the cars. The output is taken from that virgin tract of hemlock, near the head of Montgomery Creek, and about the only virgin timber left within the confines of Clearfield county.

Talk about snow. We have it and more than we really need or can take care of reasonably. The fall of that heavy material which delights the heart of the sleighing parties, impeded the progress of church and Sunday school attendants, last Sunday not only checked pedestrian traffic in town, but also filled up the country roads sufficiently to keep the rural residents at home until the exits from their homes to the highways could be shoveled out to a depth of finding road bed low enough to allow a sled or sleigh to glide through. Another still more is contemplated to locate that ground hog fiend who so valuably prophesied an open winter.

Ord L. Norris, a one-time get-up-and-get Pipe townshipp agriculturist, who a few years ago sold his land and truck and became a resident at the county seat, was in Curwensville on Saturday night. He came up ostensibly to attend a meeting of the Old Fellows Lodge and also a session of the members of the Gates Punting Club, each of which he is an active and enthusiastic attendee.

Miss Grace Smiley, teaching a school at Peale, arrived in Curwensville on Saturday and was a guest of her cousin Mrs. Geo. C. Fleming, until Monday.

For the reason of car shortage nearly all of the mines herabouts were idle the greater part of last week. A car embargo on the railroads centering at this point is given out as one reason for this, while another and more plausible excuse is that there is an over production of that fuel on the market, the decline in market value causing those who bought at a higher price to hold on to what they have, anticipating an early advance. The price of wagon fuel, tons of which was loaded at his place, has also taken a slump in price, few brokers buying in advance, as they did a few weeks ago. To make a reasonable profit the men who bought from the small country tanks and loaded on cars, could not do so for a less sum than from $2.75 to $3.00 per ton. The price for wagon fuel is some less than that figure today. Hence those who have been engaged in that line of trade do not know whether they load cars now or not, but are watching the broker market closely for a sign of an increase in the price per tonnage.

Frank Price, eldest son of Amos Price, who died at the Price home a few days ago from an attack of typhoid fever, was buried Sunday afternoon in the Bloomington cemetery, Rev. J. C. Collins officiating, spiritually.

Curwensville has always enjoyed the reputation of being one of the few towns in this county enjoying small fire losses during its many years of prosperity. According to a published statement the total loss by fire during the year 1922 amounted to only $3,825.00. The firemen attended 9 alarms where there was no property loss at all; 8 calls where the losses ranged from $25 to $2,000; and answered four still alarms. We consider that a pretty fair fire record for a town of three thousand population, or in other words, most of the leading insurance companies do not hesitate a moment in granting risks on property in this town, as their losses always are much lower every year than in other towns the same size or dimension.

A deputy collector will be in Curwensville and at the Central Hotel on February 12, 13 and 14th, for the purpose of giving instructions in the manner of compiling and filling out of blanks for income tax. His services will be at the command of all those who do not thoroughly understand the system for attending to this lawful and important duty. It will not be at all necessary for the Curwensville letter correspondent to take up any of this deputy's valuable time while on duty in this vicinity.

Mrs. Jeff LaBorde and daughter went to Clearfield and spent Sabbath with relatives.

Master Howard Deter, a grandson of Geo. R. Fleming, met with an accident last Saturday while coasting on the hill at the foot of Bloomington avenue which caused him a great deal of pain and will keep him careful of himself for some days. He was thrown from a sled striking a piece of railing which walloped him over the back and kidneys.

A three-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wise, died at their home in Pike township, on Sunday. The funeral was held this afternoon. Funeral Director Doverspike having charge. Interment of the body was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mistress Esther Bloom, a grandchild of Mr. S. C. Norris, is reported as being seriously ill at the home of her parents in Pike township, not far from the borough line.

Parents and Teachers meeting was held in one of the rooms of the High School building last evening. It was a sort of union gathering as the members of the Board of Health, School Board, town physicians and parents, who are directly interested in the health of their children who are attending the public schools, had been invited and earnestly requested to be present. The important question to be discussed was "Health and Sanitation." It was distinctly and clearly demonstrated to all that many rooms in the three buildings were not sanitary and that they were overcrowded. In several rooms where some seventy youngsters are herded, and half dozen nationalities represented, the atmosphere at times is strong enough to "stink a tar can off a gut wagon," and it is one of the great unsolved mysteries just how teacher and pupils can stand it day after day without becoming ill. There will have to be something done very soon by which better sanitary conditions in the school can be maintained. As we stated and clearly described once before, that there are more pupils attending our public schools than can be properly taken care of in the manner that they should be. Every room in the three buildings has more pupils than the law specifically permits. There is a time coming, and it is not a year distant either, when the State educational authorities will take hold of this matter and straighten it out. Are we in a position to meet the expense that will incur if this happens? There ought to be pride in plenty in this town to take this sanitary problem up and adjust it without any outside assistance.

Frank Gilliland, of Clearfield, was in Curwensville yesterday visiting his patrons and demonstrating his line of goods.

Here is a problem that the writer was given to solve yesterday by one of the heaviest taxpayers in this end of the county: If a moonshiner can procure a gift of $150 to leave the county, how much more would be given to a sunshiner to vamoose? We pass the buck up to some one who has a bigger head than we for riddles.

The rent question in Curwensville has indeed become a hard nut to crack. In interviewing more than a dozen persons yesterday who rent business rooms and dwelling houses, it was made plain to us that the price had been jumped to double for the year 1923 as to what had been paid for the same room space during 1922. As no repairs or conveniences to these places had been added, the people who occupied them could not figure out just why this was done.

Heat and water rates are no higher, neither are taxes, light, etc., advanced over the rates of last year, hence it is hard to realize how come it that rent rates advanced so tremendously. What this town is in most need of is about half a hundred new houses or flats. The question of high rents is simply because there are more people to be housed than there are places to accommodate them. It's a simple problem in deuteronomy; the more houses the less rental.

At a recent meeting of the Methodist people the following Sunday school officials were elected for the ensuing year: Superintendent, John A. Dale (re-elected); assistant superintendent, Newt Shirey; Secretary Sam P. Bressler; Treasurer, W. L. Dale; treasurer missionary fund, Mrs. Obe Bloom. W. C. Weber was chosen as superintendent of adult department; Rev. Collins, the senior dept.; Mrs. W. L. Dale, intermediate dept.; Mrs. N. J. Kittleberger, junior dept.; Mrs. Obe Bloom, primary dept. The average attendance at each session of the school was three hundred and sixteen.

Jake Kantar, representing Kantar & Sons went to Bradford yesterday to look over conditions and make ready for the stocking up of a new store that his firm is about to install in the city of oil.

Several gallons of hard cider seemed to have enough pep in it to get some half dozen boys, hardly out of their teens, into a mess of trouble Saturday night. Several of the lads had the "grape vine twist waltz" down to perfection, to say nothing of the extraordinary fine and fluent line of vulgar expressions which was broadcasted promiscuously into the air.

What does the cup supply for you?

Many people find harm to health in the seeming friendliness of coffee and tea. They first notice the unfriendly side of their table drink in sleeplessness and nerve-irritation—signs that health is being disturbed by the drug, caffeine, which these beverages contain.

It pays to face the facts when health is involved. It's a good plan to look for the cause of restless nights and nerve-fagged days.

Postum is a safe and satisfying mealtime drink for everybody. It meets every demand of taste, and it contains nothing which can disturb health. The children may safely share it with you—as many cups as desired, without risk of disagreeable after-effects.

There's charm without harm in Postum—the famous cereal beverage.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

Sanitary Chicken Houses Vital
To Succeed in Poultry RaisingPoor Policy To Wait Until Houses And Flocks Are Infested
Before Combating ParasitesBy SETH W. SHOEMAKER
Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

The careful poultryman must be constantly on the watch for parasites to prevent his fowls and poultry houses from being mastered by the insect vermin.

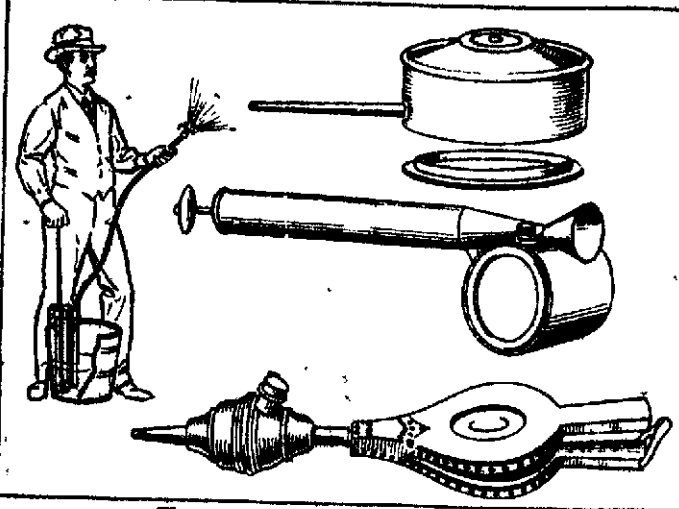

In fact to be successful in poultry raising a systematic warfare must be waged against the insects or enemies of poultry at all times, and to be successful the methods of killing these parasites must be intelligently carried out.

There are a number of kinds of insect powder and kept in a sort of quarantine by themselves while the house is being cleaned.

The next step is to fumigate either with sulphur or tobacco. Every crack, crevice and other opening should be stopped so that the fumes will not escape. If either sulphur or tobacco is used it should be burned in an iron pot or kettle to avoid fire. If these substances are moistened with alcohol or some other inflammable material they will burn more freely. The building should be kept tightly closed for twenty-four hours after fumigation is started.

Next, the house should be dusted secticides used for this purpose including liquid, fume and powder insecticides. Liquid and fume insecticides may kill all kinds of parasites but the liquid insecticides are usually the most convenient to apply. Powder insecticides will kill some parasites in short order while other parasites will scamp away uninjured. Powder insecticides are usually not satisfactory when applied to poultry houses but are effective on the bodies of birds.

Not only the fowls themselves but the poultry buildings must be kept free from parasites. This may be done by a large number of poultry raisers but it is a fact that the most serious of all poultry pests is the red mite that hides in the cracks and crevices of the house and attacks the birds only on the roost at night.

Taking Preventive Measures. It is always poor policy to wait until the poultry house as well as the fowls are thoroughly infested with the parasites before taking corrective measures. The presence of such pests in a poultry house means that the vitality of the fowls has been sapped to a considerable extent. No matter how thick the parasites may be in a house they can be destroyed in a short time by practicing the proper methods but the vitality of the birds cannot be so easily restored. Hence, preventives taken at the proper time are much more satisfactory than attempting to kill off the parasites after they have gained a good foothold.

The first step in preventing parasites is to keep the houses clean, admit plenty of sunshine and prevent dampness in the building so far as possible. After these conditions are assumed liquid insecticides should be regularly sprayed over the interior of the building.

No amount of insect powder blown into the plumage of fowls will keep them free from parasites so long as they must live in a building infested with lice or mites. To clean thoroughly a poultry house that has become highly infested with parasites or insects like lice or mites is a problem that requires drastic measures. The first step is to remove all poultry to other quarters where they should be thoroughly dusted with with dry air slaked lime. To do this a person should take a bag of fine lime and start at the end of the house farthest from the door, walk slowly backwards toward the door scattering the lime against the ceiling, sidewalls, nest boxes, etc. The air should be filled with a cloud of white dust. One half bushel of lime dust will answer for a poultry house 20 feet wide and 40 or 50 feet long. A thin cloth that the poultryman can see through should be tied over the eyes, nose and mouth to prevent the lime dust from getting into them. The house should be closed again for twenty-four hours to allow the lime dust to settle.

The house should be brushed out and swept clean. All litter should be taken out and mounded with kerosene and burned. Any that will not burn should be buried deep in the ground.

After it is cleaned, the house should be sprayed both inside and outside with some good liquid insecticide similar to Crocote. Purchased at different times and different prices this will not always be of the same thickness or viscosity. It should be thinned, however, so that it will spray easily through an ordinary sprayer, usually with from two to four parts of kerosene. Another mixture consists of two and a half gallons of Crocote, two and a half gallons of water and one pound of wash.

A second application of the liquid insecticide should be made to the interior of the house and nest boxes, roosts, etc., before the fowls are allowed to return.

The fowls should be thoroughly dusted with insect powder immediately before they are put back into the house. They should be returned at dusk with the powder in their plumage so that they can rest the first night covered with the powder.

After this treatment the house should be sprayed about once a month with some good liquid insecticide and kept as clean as possible.

The insects commonly attacking chickens that will be eliminated by a campaign of this kind includes the large chicken louse, the variable chicken louse and the common chicken louse and the red mite.

Black Magic.

The story has just leaked out of a local colored fellow who paid a dollar during the Elk carnival to have his fortune told. The lady told him that he loved chicken, that he had won some money on craps and that he had been in jail. The fellow gasped and said: "Mah goodness, lady, you has told my inmost thoughts."—Pratt (Kan.) Republican Conservative Estimate.

One explanation and definition of the meaning of "conservative estimate" is found in the assertion of a professor at the University of California, who says that the human race improves 1 per cent in 25,000 years.—Cincinnati Enquirer

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Wonder if provision will be made in the Clearfield county budget for further "Bonuses for Bootleggers."

We agree in part with the ancient editor of the Raftsmen's Journal (who like all old fellows lives in the past) in his contention that some of the inconveniences down at the Clearfield county jail are likely of Democratic origin. We have it on the word of one of the long-time inmates that this is so, as this fellow contends that many of the bed bugs and greynacks infesting every crevice, nook and corner have been there since and before that twenty-five foot wall fell down and disclosed Democratic duplicity. This fellow says their size, voracity and skill in attack and retreat is proof positive of long experience.

Our informant further said that an effort was made a couple of times since he was in there to put the "pesky devils" to death by a "generous sprinkling of formaldehyde and while that did account for a few young and tender fellows it only served as a sort of intoxicant for the old "hard shell" fellows, who would then pounce upon the prisoners and chew 'em up unmercifully while the "jag" lasted. In this connection, too, our informant stated that whenever any one attempts to enter the jail, the "old guard," as the patriarchs of the gang are known among the bugs, form a sort of reception committee and all run out of their hiding places seeking a vantage point on the frame work over the door at the rattle of the key in the lock and from which they descend as the plague on the luckless newcomer as he steps in side. He further says that on the recent visit to the jail of the County Commissioners, one old grey, but active fellow looked the crowd over and clicking his teeth to attract the attention of his fellows, remarked "lay off this crowd, fellows; as I live there's my old friend Jesse Dale. He ran this place as Sheriff back in the early days of my youth. He first introduced me to formaldehyde and while it singed my whiskers I got many a jag out of it after I got older."

To fill the national market basket at the neighborhood store now costs an average of 15.4 per cent more than a year ago, according to the newest nationwide investigation of retail food prices made by the Department of Labor.

The proportion of increase as computed by the Labor Department represents an average of prices of many common articles of food as quoted at each of several retail stores in virtually all large cities in the country. These price lists for selected articles of food are obtained by local agents and sent to the Department at Washington where they are averaged and compared. This process is repeated each month. The result is a table of percentages of rise and fall in the values of various common foods which shows definitely the price trend for the country as a whole.

Changes in the price level of the principal foods during the last twelve months are shown in the following tables:

Article	Increase.	Percentage.
Sirloin steak		4.3
Rib roast		2.9
Bacon		4.1
Butter		15.4
Sugar		27.9
Coffee		3.3
Lard		9.9
Decrease.
Eggs		5.3
Milk		2.5
Bread		5.5
Flour		2.5
Potatoes		31.8
Chicken		5.9

The present average prices of these foods is well above the level of 1913, with the exception of lard, which is only 11 per cent higher than in the pre-war year; coffee, 23 per cent, and potatoes, 24 per cent

The price level of eggs, which decreased during the last 12 months, is still 93 per cent above 1913; that of sirloin steak is up 45 per cent; bacon, 49 per cent; butter, 57 per cent; milk, 54 per cent; bread, 54 per cent; flour, 48 per cent; sugar, 51 per cent; chicken, 58 per cent, and rib roast, 38 per cent.

The cost of living in the United States as a whole is 69.5 per cent higher now than in 1913, the Labor Department announces.

It is, however, 21.7 per cent lower than in June, 1920, 2.8 per cent lower than in December, 1921, and 1.9 per cent higher than in September, 1922.

Great Britain's financial commission which sailed for home last week after failing to get a rebate from Uncle Sam on Johnny Bull's war debt, was "bloody well" peeved at their failure and says we have too many politicians running our country and you can't believe a "bally one on 'em."

Ambassador Harvey and Chief Justice Taft are said to have told the British government the United States would accept a lower rate of interest than 3 per cent, and it was to realize on this promise that the Britishers came over and left after being told they would have to "come across" with every blooming cent of this promise.

This incident took place when Justice Taft was in London in July and he and Col. Harvey lunched at No. 10 Downing street. Mr. Lloyd George was then Prime Minister, but Premier Bonar Law was present.

The promise, which is said to have been made in the garden after lunch, was to the effect that the United States would fund the British debt on the basis of 28,000,000 pounds sterling a year for sixty-two years at 2 1/2 per cent interest. No record of the alleged promise exists in writing.

The First Power.

When the first electric power station was established in Bolivia the South American Indians thought that the white man was stealing the moon's light and power for his business. There were indignation meetings, which were suppressed only by the gradual understanding by the natives of the great benefit of electricity through this power station.

Smallest Birds.

The smallest bird is the minute hummer, found in South America. Some are little bigger than moths. Despite their small size, they are arrayed in gorgeous plumage. They dart about in sunshine like living flashes of light, so swift are their movements that it is difficult to obtain more than a brief glimpse of them. Sometimes these tiny birds can be studied when they hover above their favorite flowers.

For the first time since 1916 this government expects to be back on a "pay as you go" basis by June first.

This is the welcome statement coming from President Harding within three years of his taking the reins of the federal government on an economy program.

President Harding went into the presidency when the country faced a situation just about the same as Governor Pinchot faces in Pennsylvania.

No President has faced so many demands on the public treasury and no President has ever carried out his program so faithfully.

There is no single act of the President which can be said to be "playing to the galleries." He has "cut and slashed" appropriations even when public sentiment seemed to be unfavorable to his acts.

But he has carried out his promises and within a few short months he will have the financial affairs of this government on the same basis that Mr. Pinchot hopes to put the financial affairs of this state within the next four years.

President Harding has had opportunities without number to play to the galleries, to appease this and that interest, and make friends in many circles.

Rather he chose to take those steps which would bring the most good to the greatest number.

It appears that for the first time in many years the business of this region will not be tied up by reason of the uncertainty that always is present about the first of April when coal wage contracts expire.

It is a temporary advantage and the most should be made of it. The wise business man is going to "keep on going."

There is nothing to halt good business during the whole of 1923. The car supply this winter has prevented the miner from making a decent living, but even this cloud has its silver lining. The car supply will surely get better soon and the scarcity of the last few months should create a coal demand lasting far into the summer months.

The man who raises poultry is always interested in the subject from every angle and indeed, to be a successful poultryman, whether just a little flock for table eggs and an occasional chicken dinner, or on a large scale, demands eternal care and study. Realizing this The Progress will publish a series of articles on poultry which will be found interesting and profitable. They will appear almost daily. Read them carefully and profit thereby.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation—you'll find quick, sure and pleasant relief from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night and keep right. Try them. You'll be glad you tried them.

COMPLETION OF THE YEAR

The first annual stock dues contest of the Pennsylvania State College was held in the college livestock building, with 135 members of the first year class competing for judging honors. The winners in the several classes were: G. D. Taylor, Reading, for highest on all classes; R. P. Armstrong, Clearfield, and J. D. Lybain, Washington, tied on horses; S. M. Woodhead, Parksville, cattle; C. P. Wachsmuth, Butler, Sheep; R. J. Salmon, Centerville, swine. These men were awarded highly-prized gold medals, appropriately engraved for each class of stock, and furnished by breeders and organizations interested in the advancement of livestock work. The medal for general excellence in judging was given by the National Stockman and Farmer, Pittsburgh; the horse medal, by J. N. Convingham, Clarksdale, breeder, Wilber Barre, swine, by the Northumberland County Duroc Breeders' Association, Sunbury; cattle, by Alec Warner, Shorthorn breeder, Titusville; sheep by A. R. Hamilton, Hampshire breeder, Johnstown. A similar contest will soon be held for new students in the two year agricultural course.

Ship Board Captain Is Accused Of Brutality To Men Under His Care

New York, Jan. 30.—George M. Miles, former Captain of the Shipping Board Steamer resident Van Turen on trial here today on a charge of murder on the high seas was accused of torture by witnesses testifying against him. A. J. MacDonald a mate declared that Miles punished H. C. Baxter a pantryman and caused the latter to be put in rons with food placed within a few inches of his reach. Miles accused Baxter of being lazy and feigning illness.

Baxter died as his mind became affected.

EVERYTHING IN FISH

These days are the days when the fish are coming through in fine shape and we have them from lake, river and ocean.

We have fresh fish and frozen fish and either one is in such a shape that you'll find it good for your appetite.

If you have a jaded appetite and don't think that you can eat much, drop in and look over the fish.

Fata Morgana Mirage.

The mirage which is seen at the straits of Messina is known as the Fata Morgana, because it was thought to have been the work of a fairy of that name. In Arthurian legend Morgana is the sister of Arthur.

March of Progress.

Every year returns which has been elected U. S. senator, not in doing much of a new, but in doing some of the old. The most notable addition made to legislation have been on matters of structure of previous legislation and the best laws which have been passed have been those by which some of our laws have been repealed.—Henry Thomas Baile.

Learning To Experience.

Experience is of only the best of teachers but in reality the only teacher for we must learn from our own experience or from the experience of others.—Charles L. Carpenter.

The Honor System.

The student—Say, Myrtle, this honor system is sure some stunt. Yesterday the professor calls my roommate up to the desk and says, "Look here, Mr. Drummer, what authority was you quoting?" Almost every sentence in your paper is included in quotation marks." An' Bill says back: "Between you an' me, professor, I was quotin' the fellow next to me."—Tale Record.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean
Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

We offer replacement in quick time at reasonable prices! Remember us the next time you break your glasses and need immediate service.
